DAY CAMP STOPS SUMMER BRAIN DRAIN

Boys & Girls Clubs of Redlands' Summer Day Camp Offers a Great Serve at a Low Cost

REDLANDS—For an experience that's out of this world, students will touch base with their extraterrestrial selves as part of Outer Space Week later this month at the Boys & Girls Clubs of Redlands.

Themed summer day camps will be educational and fun: during "Infinity & Beyond" Outer Space Week, students will participate in NASA-based video games in the comforts of the new air conditioned computer lab at the Hansberger Clubhouse. They will make "rockets," and plan to end "Outer Space Week" with a trip to Krikorian Premier Theatres to watch Walt Disney's/Pixar's release of "Wall-E."

Every week will be a different adventure for those lucky enough to participate in the Boys & Girls Clubs of Redlands' Summer Day Camp.

Activities all day long will keep kids busy and safe at the Club's new home at the corner of Clay Street and Lugonia Avenue: water Olympics, container gardening, arts and crafts, "Music Madness," trips to regional parks and more will keep kids safe and occupied.

Summer Day Camp begins June 23 and runs until Aug. 8, from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Costs include a one-time $12 annual Boys & Girls Club membership fee, as well as $55 a week, which includes travel and materials, and includes breakfast, lunch and an afternoon snack.

Summer Day Camp is intended for children ages 6-12, and is limited to the first 50 who sign up.

Sign-ups are at the Hansberger Clubhouse, 1251 Clay Street – Redlands. For information, call (909) 798-4599.
